Gary Cohen, Award-winning presenter with an energizing presentation style!

Break These Habits:

- “Mind-wandering” and lack of concentration
- Feeling sleepy when reading
- Continuous procrastination
- Disorganization
- Having to re-read sentences and paragraphs
- Poor time management

You'll Learn:

- The foods affecting your concentration.
- How to increase long-term retention.
- The secrets of 4.0 students.
- How to increase your reading speed and improve comprehension.
- Techniques for improving memory.

Gary Cohen blends humor, personal interaction, multi-media, stories, and magic into his programs as he shares with students cutting edge information on maximizing time and enhancing their ability to learn. During this highly interactive presentation, you'll be impressed with how much students learn and how much fun they have at the same time.

Gary Cohen has presented life-changing programs to students around the world since 1990. He has led week-long intensive motivational retreats/camps, and is now Tuerack Training International's leading presenter. His program has been presented at notable schools, such as Harvard, Cornell, and MIT. While presenting primarily across the United States, he has been requested to present in far reaching places such as Singapore.

Gary is also an award-winning filmmaker, and expresses his thoughts in such a way that audiences are drawn in and highly engaged. Gary Cohen presently tours the country presenting before executives, college students, and middle/high school students on the topics of Improving Mental Productivity and “Better Grades in Less Time™”.

Why schools rave about Gary Cohen!

Large color promo-posters (below) provided

"We want to thank you for the explosive presentation you gave us here at Columbus State University. Students are still raving about it!"
Elisa Williams, Cultural Affairs Chair, Columbus State University, GA

"A tremendous show! Gary Cohen drew nearly 400 new students for the informational/ fun session. It was a hit!"
Rachel McGuire, Direction of Admissions, North Iowa Area Community College, IA

"Gary's upbeat personality stimulated students interest and participation. Gary's entertaining and lively program and his ability to connect with the students..."
Alan Weintraub, Assistant Dean of Academics, Westport High School, MA

"There has never been a turnout as large as there was for your presentation. People are still coming to me and commenting on how good the presentation was."
Alessandra Roffo, SGA Vice President for Academic Affairs, Assumption College, MA.

"The students that attended the program can not stop talking about it. 200 fraternity/sorority new members never stopped paying attention. Gary quickly won them over and were hanging on his every word."
Brian Mauro, Director of Leadership Development, Muhlenberg College, PA.

Gary Cohen is one of the most entertaining and engaging presenters on the educational circuit. He has been able to help thousands of students across the country attain higher grades and success in school.

"Gary Cohen was such an engaging presenter! Many of the students who attended the program doubled their reading speed. Personally, I was able to triple my reading speed with full comprehension by the end of the program. I spoke with many of those who attended the program who continued to discuss it for weeks afterwards. We are thrilled that we booked him again for September."
Sherri Nickel-Milstone, Director of Residence Life & Housing, Worcester State College, MA

"The students and staff were very impressed with the effectiveness of the reading techniques demonstrated during the presentation."
John Newburn, Principal, Fairhaven High School, MA

"Excellent presentation! The positive comments written by audience members following the presentation speak more eloquently than I could of the positive impact of the information shared through the program. We were pleased to have high quality material combined with a high quality presentation. We look forward to your return."
Carol Dawson, Activities Program Specialist, College of Lake County, IL

"When Gary Cohen came, our biggest challenge was finding a room big enough for all the students who attended! They recommended that we bring him back!"
Robert C. Nordvall, Dean of First Year Students, Gettysburg College, PA

"Because of Gary's enthusiasm, the audience participation was exceptional. Participants learned how to read and comprehend at higher speeds. After the performance, we had faculty and students approach us and comment on how they enjoyed themselves."
Eric Johnson, Fine Arts and Lecture Chairperson, Salt Lake Community College, UT
